

Department of Developmental Studies

Instructor in English Composition

The University of South Alabama Department Of Developmental Studies invites applications for a full-time, temporary (one semester) non-tenure track Instructor in English Composition beginning January 1, 2010. Master's degree in English or English Education with 18 graduate semester hours in English required. Preference will be given to candidates with experience in designing and teaching English composition courses in a post-secondary remedial environment.

Send a letter of application, curriculum vita, official transcripts, and three original letters of recommendation to:

Dr. William Young, Search Committee Chair
Department of Developmental Studies, AHE 208
University of South Alabama
307 University Blvd. N.
Mobile, AL 36688

Deadline for applications is November 6, 2009.

The University of South Alabama is an Equal Opportunity/Equal Access Employer