Name: _____

Given the independent work in this course, you are responsible for managing assignments to earn your course grade.

Responsibility (defined): The moral and forward-looking sense of responsibility is the sense in which one is responsible for achieving (or maintaining) a good result in some matter. The idea is that one is entrusted with achieving or maintaining this outcome, and expected to both have relevant knowledge and skills, and to make a conscientious effort.

This pass entitles you to mercy.

Mercy (defined): clemency: leniency and compassion shown toward offenders by a person or agency charged with administering justice; something for which to be thankful; "it was a mercy we got out alive;" alleviation of distress; showing great kindness toward the distressed

You may:

- Turn in one assignment one class period late with no penalty.
- Miss class one time without it counting toward your total absences.
- Receive bonus points (5 pts) at the end of the semester.

To receive one of the above benefits, check your choice above and return the signed pass to the instructor.
