

Collaborative Strategy Scenario

Name: Elephant Group

Sandra Napp

Ramona Johnson

Peter DePaola

Strategy: Frame Type I

Content: Holidays

Title: Holidays of the World

Required Time: One half our per day for five days

Target Audience: A dozen or more upper elementary students

Goal of Activity: To recognize world holidays and the diverse types of people who celebrate them.

Purpose of Script: To introduce frame type I as an organizer

Learning Outcomes: Gagne's Taxonomy- Verbal Information & Cognitive Strategies
Bloom's Taxonomy- Knowledge, Comprehension, Application,
Analysis, and Synthesis

Learning Characteristics: Elementary Students

Entry Skills: Basic computer knowledge and Internet skills

Setting: Computer Lab

Media: Internet Access along with enough computers for the students to either have their own or to pair up. Also, a chalkboard with chalk.

Process:

- 1.) The teacher will introduce a frame type I to the students and pass out copies of a blank frame
- 2.) The teacher and students will brainstorm a variety of holidays celebrated around the world and write them down on chalk board

- 3.) From there, the teacher will ask students for dates of these holidays. If this is not possible then the class as a whole will research it. Once dates are found, then the origin and denomination are researched
- 4.) The teacher will have a blank frame made out on the board which is identical to the frame example given to the students
- 5.) The teacher and students will fill out the forms together as a class. What the teacher is putting on the board is what the students should be copying into their own frames at their seats
- 6.) The students will work in pairs or individually (as they wish)
- 7.) When this project is complete, the teacher and students will discuss holidays they have shared that have been different than their own.

Strategy Assessment: Students will be graded based on their completed frame type I

	Date	Origin	Denomination
Kindergarten Day
Multiple Personalities Day
Rubber Eraser Day
Public Sleeping Day

*These are just examples. Other holidays can be used of choice

Reference: <http://members.aol.com/TeachersNet/Holiday.html>