

TABLE 5.8 Internet Sources Helpful in Locating Tests and Other Measurement Instruments

Source	URL	Description
Measurement Excellence Initiative	www.measurementexperts.org/index.asp	Click on the “find an instrument” link, and you will find links to over thirty testing and measurement sites.
Online Evaluation Resource Library	http://oerl.sri.com/instruments/instruments.html	This library is funded by the National Science Foundation. It includes model instruments that users are encouraged to use or adapt to their needs.
ERIC/AE Test Locator	http://ericae.net/testcol.htm#ETSTF	This is an excellent source based on a collaborative effort of ERIC, ETS, Buros, Region III Comprehensive Center, and Pro-Ed test publishers.
ETS Test File	http://ericae.net/testcol.htm#ETSTF	This link takes you to the Educational Testing Service database containing descriptions of over 10,000 tests and research instruments.
Test Review Locator	http://ericae.net/testcol.htm#trev	This link allows you to search for test review citations for measures included in the Buros and Pro-Ed directories.
Buros/ERIC Test Publisher Directory	http://ericae.net/testcol.htm#Testpub	This link lets you search for the names and addresses of over 900 commercial test publishers.
Buros Institute of Mental Measurements	www.unl.edu/buros	This takes you directly to the Buros Institute of Mental Measurements and it has lots of useful links for you to use.
Educational Testing Service	www.ets.org/testcoll/	This takes you directly to the Educational Testing Service TestLink site. This database has 20,000 tests and related measurement devices.
Center for Equity and Excellence in Education Test Database	http://ericae.net/eac/	This link gives you access to over 200 tests that have been used with Limited English Proficient students.
The Evaluation Center	www.wmich.edu/evalctr/ess.html	This is the link for the Evaluation Center. Click on Web Resource Links and then click on Assessment, Measurement, and Instruments . Also check this link from this site http://141.218.173.232:120/xchange/ for more testing instruments.