Thanks to the generosity of Mr. Daniel Miller and Dr. and Mrs. M. Allam Baaheth, USA musicians now have Steinway pianos available to use to perform for the more than 13,000 annual concert-goers.
Dear Friends,

As the University of South Alabama begins its sixth decade of service, thank you for contributing to the strong foundation that will support future growth and success. During our first 50 years, USA has awarded more than 77,000 degrees. Our alumni reside in every state and many countries around the world and their contributions to the communities where they live create a positive impact beyond calculation.

The University of South Alabama extends its reach through service and scholarly research that builds knowledge, supports economic development, sustains the environment, and improves the health of our citizens. The University continues to work for improvement in the quality of life for citizens of the region through health services and hospitals. The USA Health System offers critical resources with the region’s only Level I Trauma Center at USA Medical Center, the area’s only Neonatal Intensive Care Unit at USA Children’s & Women’s Hospital, and a comprehensive cancer care center that incorporates an aggressive academic research program at the USA Mitchell Cancer Institute.

Today, USA is a comprehensive, high research university with an enrollment exceeding 15,000 students. South Alabama is providing students the opportunities to grow and excel in future endeavors with nearly 100 academic degree programs. Investments of more than $500 million in recent campus enhancements are providing USA students with exceptional learning environments and student life opportunities.

Thanks to the visionary leadership of the late President V. Gordon Moulton and the extraordinary generosity of Abraham A. Mitchell, a new undergraduate endowed scholarship was initiated to recruit and attract the top students – the Mitchell-Moulton Scholarship Initiative.

Again, thank you for all that you are doing for the University of South Alabama.

Sincerely,

Dr. John W. Smith
Acting President

ON THE COVER: Mr. Mitchell’s $50 million commitment to the University of South Alabama was announced at USA’s 50th Anniversary Celebration on May 3, 2013.
Dear Friends,

It is a great pleasure to thank you for your support and its effect on advancing the progress of the University of South Alabama. As an alumnus and as chair of the Board of Trustees, I am proud of all this great institution has achieved and I am optimistic the future is bright indeed.

Throughout the celebration of the 50th Anniversary this past year we have had many opportunities to look back with astonished pride at the distance our University has come because of the vision, energy, and hard work of administrators, faculty, staff, alumni, and friends. Each of us has a personal relationship with the University of South Alabama that awakens pride and gratitude, and the 50th Anniversary allowed us to see our own experience magnified by the thousands of others who celebrated alongside us.

This year too, we shared a profound loss in the death last fall of President Emeritus V. Gordon Moulton. Truly, Gordon’s contributions to the progress of USA can scarcely be overstated. Through his life and work, we all see the positive difference that the leadership, courage, generosity, and good will of an individual can make for our University. We are grateful.

We are thankful as well to Abraham Mitchell, who supported President Moulton’s vision for keeping USA strong and attractive to future students with an extraordinary commitment of $50 million. Mr. Mitchell’s generosity has helped launch the Mitchell-Moulton Scholarship Initiative, a campaign to permanently expand scholarship support through a $50 million endowment. Thanks to Gordon Moulton’s and Abe Mitchell’s shared vision, in the future more students than ever will know the transforming impact that a USA degree creates in their lives and on their families.

As the 50th Anniversary concluded and we looked to the future, the University was engaged in a national search for its next president. It is a great pleasure to report that the Board of Trustees, acting on the unanimous recommendation of the Presidential Search Committee, has named Dr. Tony G. Waldrop as the third president of the University of South Alabama.

Dr. Waldrop is eminently qualified by his leadership experience at some of the nation’s most prestigious and fastest-growing universities to lead USA through the next exciting and dynamic chapter in its history. We expect Dr. Waldrop to arrive on campus in early April, and I look forward to introducing him and his wife, Dr. Julee Waldrop, to all of you.

These are exciting days at the University of South Alabama. Thank you for sharing the experience with me.

Sincerely,

Steven P. Furr, M.D.
Chair pro tempore, Board of Trustees
Recipient Turns Benefactor

Timothy K. Driggers worked many hours at odd jobs and a stint at a local convenience store in his hometown Elba, Alabama in order to save enough money to attend the University of South Alabama following high school graduation in 1980. Throughout his freshman year, Driggers paid his tuition and fees from the money he had earned.

During his sophomore year, Driggers was pleasantly surprised to be the recipient of a Presidential Scholarship, which paid his tuition and fees. Until he was awarded the scholarship, Driggers had never heard of the Presidential Scholarship program at USA. Nevertheless, this young student from Coffee County made great use of the financial opportunity provided by presidential scholarship awards in his sophomore and junior years by completing his degree in just three years. Degree in hand, Driggers soon moved to New Orleans where he worked for 12 years before moving to Houston to take a position with EOG Resources. For many years, Driggers has held progressively responsible positions with EOG; today, he serves as vice president and chief financial officer of the company.

Several years ago, a Google search led Driggers to reconnect with USA classmate, Diana Laier, during her tenure as president of the USA National Alumni Association. In the course of catching up, Driggers formed a plan to establish a scholarship endowment in appreciation for what USA did to help him get through college. Because he knows the difference that a scholarship can make in a person’s life, Driggers wanted to give back to USA and to help future students, preferably those from his hometown of Elba. He explained, “I wanted them to have the same opportunity I had.” Thanks to Driggers, students in the Mitchell College of Business annually receive good news that they are recipients of the Timothy K. Driggers Endowed Scholarship.

As Tim Driggers’ story illustrates, scholarship support can make a huge difference in establishing a foundation for success in the life of a university student. For many years, top students have benefited from USA’s generous Presidential Scholarship program. However, declining federal student aid and rising tuition and fees have combined to create a climate in which most university students incur substantial debt in the course of earning a bachelor’s degree. The average debt for a student graduating with an undergraduate degree is more than $27,000. Students, parents, and university administrators across the nation are concerned about the impact that such a large amount of debt will have on young adults struggling to establish families and careers.

Multiplying the Impact

Fittingly, Tim Driggers, a past recipient of a Presidential Scholarship, was one of the first donors to claim matching funds through the Mitchell-Moulton Scholarship Initiative. He has created a second scholarship endowment for the Mitchell College of Business, using a company matching gift program to double the size of the endowment. Mitchell-Moulton Scholarship Initiative funds will match his gift and his company’s match for a quadruple impact on deserving USA students.
A Potent Partnership

Here at USA, the late President V. Gordon Moulton had compassion for the difficulties students have faced because of necessary tuition and fee increases imposed in recent years. Keeping a South Alabama degree within reach became a high priority of his administration and a personal goal. President Moulton wisely shared this vision with one of USA’s most ardent friends, Mr. Abraham A. Mitchell, and found that he and the university had a powerful partner for addressing this need.

Together, they shaped a plan to greatly expand the Presidential Scholarship program by enhancing the endowment for scholarships by $50 million. The Abraham A. Mitchell and V. Gordon Moulton Scholarship Initiative is the result. This far reaching plan encompasses expansion of the Presidential Scholarship program and a fundraising campaign to permanently fund greater accessibility to scholarships.

The Mitchell-Moulton Scholarship Initiative was publicly unveiled during the triumphant celebration on May 3, 2013, marking the 50th anniversary of the university’s founding. The crowd in the Mitchell Center gasped and then erupted in jubilant applause as President Moulton announced the largest philanthropic commitment in USA’s history — a $50 million gift from Mr. Mitchell. Half of that amount, $25 million, has been designated for scholarship endowment.

And even better, Mr. Mitchell is offering these funds as a matching incentive to encourage other donors to help USA undergraduates through endowed scholarships. He told the crowd at the Mitchell Center that, “Given the rising costs of attending college and the pressure this puts on students and their families, President Moulton told me it was his fondest wish, as he completed his career, that even further efforts be made to create additional academic scholarships.”

The Mitchell-Moulton Scholarship Initiative exemplifies the transforming opportunities that arise when visionary leadership and philanthropy combine. Together, President Moulton, Mr. Mitchell, and the donors who will step forward to give, and thereby claim the matching funds, will create a $50 million dollar expansion in USA’s endowment for scholarships. USA students will feel the impact renewed every year from now on.
Helping Students Here at Home

Margie Malone Tuckson knows firsthand that opportunities shape one’s future. When she was just a junior in college, Ms. Tuckson moved home to Mobile because of her mother’s illness. She realized that while it was important that she help her family, it was also important to complete her college education and work toward shaping her own future. Ms. Tuckson found the opportunities to do that in her hometown at the University of South Alabama.

USA not only offered Ms. Tuckson the opportunity to finish her degree, she and fellow students helped to charter a city-wide chapter of the Delta Sigma Theta sorority. She worked to gain valuable business experience through a job placement program at South Central Bell and because these opportunities were so close to home, she was still able to offer the support that her family needed.

“The University prepared me to be competitive,” Ms. Tuckson says of the education which helped to build a foundation for her successful career. Ms. Tuckson completed her degree in business in 1973, and then put her education, experience, and competitive spirit to work for IBM for the next 18 years.

When a current USA student working on the JagLine phonathon spoke with Ms. Tuckson about an annual fund gift, Ms. Tuckson made a gift and joined the 50th Anniversary Alumni Leadership Council. Then she asked how she could help more.

Ms. Tuckson’s desire to do more has ensured that generations of USA freshmen will have great opportunities by establishing two endowed scholarships for Mobile County high school graduates. Through the matching grants from the Mitchell-Moulton Scholarship Initiative, these students will benefit twice as much.
GIVING THE JAGS AN EDGE

McNair Helps Jaguar Golf Get New Home

Thanks to the support of alumni like Dr. Scott McNair, for the first time in the history of Jaguar Golf, the men’s and women’s teams have a place to call home. The new golf suite, located in the South hallway of Jaguar Gym, houses men’s and women’s coaches’ offices, lounges, locker rooms, a putting area and hitting bay, both equipped with leading-edge TrackMan technology.

The state-of-the-art facility now allows players the opportunity to work on their games any time day or night. Men’s Head Golf Coach Ben Hannan is thrilled by this new level of support the facility offers his team, “The golf suite is better than I ever imagined and we are so thankful for the generosity of Dr. McNair and others who made this all possible.”

McNair, a 1996 graduate of the College of Medicine and an avid golfer, welcomed the opportunity to give back to USA and make an impact on the lives of its future athletes, “I enjoy working to enhance causes that I feel are exceptional. I have enjoyed the progress of the Men’s Jaguar Golf program and I’m proud to support Coach Ben Hannan and the athletes that work so hard.”

Jaguar Football Fan Inspires Generous Gift

Building a competitive Division I football team is a goal that has been eagerly embraced by friends and alumni of USA, including 1972 alumnus, Kenny Dumas, who counts himself as one of the football team’s biggest fans.

In honor of Dumas’ Jaguar pride, Terry Aucoin has made a gift to support the growth of the program. Dumas says he is proud of the support he was given as a student through the Mitchell College of Business and is honored to have inspired support for future USA students. In recognition of Aucoin’s support, the Offensive Coordinator’s Office in the Yance Football Practice Facility was named in his honor.
MEISLER GIFT SUPPORTS VISITING PROFESSOR OF JEWISH STUDIES

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Meisler have made a gift that is augmenting the University's humanities. Through the Bert and Fanny Meisler Visiting Professor of History and Jewish Studies, the College of Arts and Sciences is taking an introductory step towards one of its priorities: a Jewish studies program.

Jewish studies explores issues including group and national identity, Diaspora, genocide and cultural survival which are relevant to students who seek a richer understanding of the Jewish experience or the experience of other dispossessed or minority groups. “My wife and I are firmly convinced that Jewish Studies will prove to be an important component of USA’s larger arts and sciences curriculum,” explained Mr. Meisler of his family’s desire to help add this program.

This is not the first time the Meislers have helped the University break new ground. Their $2 million endowment helped to establish and secure the future of the University’s state-of-the-art facility to house student accounting, enrollment services, and financial aid in a single services center. The Meislers have also established the Ripps-Meisler Endowed Chair in the College of Medicine and provided extensive support to many University athletic programs. This latest gift brings the Meisler’s total support of the University to nearly $2.7 million.

The Meislers say their commitment to philanthropy comes from the example of their families, who were always giving to others. Mr. Meisler says he remembers his grandparents always welcoming new immigrants to the house and sending them on their way with some money to help them get settled. Mrs. Meisler said her husband’s philosophy has always been, “If you cast your bread upon the water, it will come back two-fold.”

Class of 1981 Breaks New Ground

Dr. Pat Nolan ’81 congratulates Thomas Baker, the 2013-14 recipient of the Class of 1981 Scholarship.

Reunions are an opportunity to catch up with former classmates and reminisce. For the College of Medicine’s Class of 1981, this nostalgia during their 30-year reunion led to a historic effort to give back to the program that gave so much to them. By the end of their reunion, the plan was in motion – the class would raise funds to establish an endowment to support student scholarships for their alma mater.

With support from more than 60 percent of the class, $217,000 was raised for the scholarship fund within six months. “We have often talked about the remarkable level of class camaraderie, but it was never more evident than during this process,” said Dr. Panacek, the campaign steering committee chair. The endowment was established to support student scholarships and will fund additional projects as future growth permits. Dr. Panacek continued, “We hope our success may serve as inspiration to leave a legacy for other generations.” Their hope is already being realized. Thomas Baker, a native of Mobile and first-year medical student, said of his selection as the first recipient, “I am honored to be chosen to receive this award and hope to give back to the school in a similar manner after I graduate.”
STOKES GIFT LAUNCHES CENTER FOR ENVIRONMENTAL RESILIENCY

Dr. and Mrs. Steven H. Stokes have made a generous gift enabling USA to establish a Center for Environmental Resiliency. Through this unique resource, the University will be positioned to promote scholarly achievement and foster the knowledge to guide responsible policy-making and business development toward a prosperous and healthy future for all residents of the Gulf Coast region. The gift is the latest in a series of significant contributions this dedicated alumni couple have made to the University.

Angelia and Steven Stokes have embraced public service as a lifetime responsibility and have committed themselves to improving the community through their support of programs like the Center for Environmental Resiliency. “We hope to establish a collaborative institute of scientists, environmentalists and industry leaders where technology and techniques can be developed that will mitigate the adverse effect of human activity on the Gulf,” Dr. Stokes said, “We hope that the gift will serve as a catalyst to establish an institute that will allow us to prepare for future events that threaten the Gulf Coast.” The generous gift is another example of the Stokes’ dedication to the University and its surrounding community.

The Stokeses have played a prominent role in advancing the interests of USA for more than three decades. Dr. Stokes has served as a member of the Board of Trustees since 1993 and is the first alumnus to serve as chair pro tempore. He has served as a member of the USA Foundation Board of Directors and the USA Research and Technology Corporation Board of Directors. His leadership has been critical to the development and progress of the Mitchell Cancer Institute, Children’s & Women’s Hospital expansion project, Campaign USA: Leadership, the Jaguar football and marching band programs, and many others.

The Stokeses’ philanthropic support has been instrumental in several important new initiatives in the life of the University. They have established the Angelia and Steven H. Stokes Center for Creative Writing and supported Moulton Tower, Alumni Plaza, the Mitchell Cancer Institute and the College of Medicine.

Similarly, the Stokeses’ support for the Center for Environmental Resiliency is helping the University break new ground in a way to create a positive change for the residents of the Gulf Coast region. Through the Stokeses’ far-sighted application of philanthropy, the University is making important strides in addressing pressing environmental concerns and promoting resilient and sustainable coastal communities.
MARX GIFT AMPLIFIES LIBRARY’S IMPACT

An extraordinarily generous commitment from the Julien E. Marx Foundation Trust will advance the library’s ability to support scholars across the University.

The foundation has committed to fund an endowment to help the library develop its collections, meet its instructional objectives, and maintain its assets. In recognition of the steadfast support of the Marx family and the Julien E. Marx Foundation, the Board of Trustees has designated the main library facility as the Marx Library.

Additionally, the commitment from the Marx Foundation Trust will support renovations to the library for the purpose of moving the Doy Leale McCall Rare Book and Manuscript Library to the main campus where it can be better preserved and shared with the community.

The relocation of the McCall Library from its location on the Springhill Avenue location to the main campus will make its many collections more available to the USA community and area citizens. Carol Ellis, director of the McCall Library, said “This move will finally provide easier access for our own students and researchers, and to scholars from Germany, England, and great American universities including Emory, Florida Atlantic, and St. Olaf, who come to Mobile to use the materials in the archive. We are thrilled at the prospect of helping fulfill the research needs of the campus community. Without the generosity of the Marx family, this opportunity would not be possible.”
The Doy Leale McCall Rare Book and Manuscript Library focuses on the preservation of photographs, manuscripts, rare volumes, and documents that record Mobile and Alabama history. With photographic holdings that include more than one million negatives, the library contains one of the largest collections of photographs in this region. A major asset of the photographic archive is the Julius E. Marx Photographic Collection; a rich trove of local images that were largely taken by Julius Marx during his long career as a developer and owner of Julius E. Marx Realtors.

According to Linda Marx, the Marx family has long been hoping to have the archive moved to the main campus where it could be better preserved and more accessible. Soon, thanks to the generosity of the Julien E. Marx Foundation Trust, the entire McCall Library and will be relocated to the newly renovated third-floor space in the Marx Library.
Strengthening Quality Care

USA Children’s & Women’s Hospital and USA Medical Center are vital to the health of the Gulf Coast community, offering unique and necessary services that restore and sustain health. With the help of generous donors, the skill and hard work of healthcare professionals is amplified and care is enhanced. Patients and their families feel the impact that these gifts make toward providing top-quality healthcare services that lead to the best possible outcomes.

Bigger for Better Tomorrows

The Campaign for USA Children’s & Women’s Hospital has raised $8.6 million toward its $10.6 goal. The campaign is supporting the newly dedicated expansion of the hospital that has nearly doubled space at the facility. Within the five levels of new space, expanded neonatal and pediatric intensive care units, state-of-the-art operating rooms, and larger patient rooms are enhancing care provided to sick children and their families. The expansion also includes two “family rooms” that have been created in collaboration with the Ronald McDonald House Charities of Mobile Inc., which will provide snacks and a place of respite for families of pediatric patients.

Owen Bailey, hospital administrator, appreciates the difference that the generosity of campaign donors makes, “We are excited to be able to serve even more people. Charitable giving directly impacts the care we offer, and ultimately, the quality of life our patients have.”
Fostering the Ties that Bind

A recent gift to the campaign will extend the transformational impact of the hospital expansion, by providing resources to renovate and support the Mother Baby Department. The Dr. Monte L. Moorer Foundation has generously committed funding that will greatly enhance the services provided to the families of the more than 2,500 babies delivered annually at USA Children’s & Women’s Hospital.

Funds from the Moorer Foundation will enable renovation of the patient rooms to provide more generous accommodations for new mothers and families. The Mother Baby Department provides high quality health services to mothers and full-term newborns. Educational opportunities for parents, referral to community resources, lactation support, and the coordinated assistance of hospital staff dedicated to providing the best possible beginnings further support families during this critical time.

USA Children’s & Women’s Hospital is the leading provider of healthcare services for newborn babies and their mothers, caring for more than 40 percent of babies born in Mobile County. By focusing on family-centered care, which involves caring for the mother and newborn together, the Mother Baby Department helps families form bonds that will be cherished for a lifetime. Through this generous gift, thousands of families will get off to a great start because of the Dr. and Mrs. Monte L. Moorer Mother Baby Department at USA Children’s & Women’s Hospital.
Ensuring a Rapid Response

The USA Medical Center provides the highest level of acute and emergency care available in the Gulf Coast region. In addition to its unique Level I Trauma Center and Regional Burn Center, USA Medical Center offers nationally recognized quality care for stroke and cardiovascular disease patients, along with its wide range of acute care services.

For many patients at USA Medical Center, timing of care is a critical factor in providing positive outcomes. A recent gift from the Crampton Trust is strengthening the hospital’s ability to respond rapidly to urgent patient needs. Through this generous gift, the USA Medical Center has acquired hand-held, lightweight ultrasound machines for its Surgical Trauma ICU, Trauma Center, and Regional Burn Center. These high-quality, durable ultrasound machines assure that the highest possible standard of care can be rapidly deployed to aid the 1,700 trauma patients and 600 burn patients admitted annually to USA Medical Center.

“The Crampton Trust was founded in part to support healthcare and education. It is part of our mission to support these services at the University of South Alabama,” explained Roger Cole, who manages the Trust. The Crampton Trust, founded by Katherine Crampton Cochrane in honor of her father, Orson L. Crampton, a renowned Mobile physician, has provided more than $1 million to support hospitals affiliated with the University of South Alabama. USA Medical Center and its patients are grateful for such a partner.
The USA Mitchell Cancer Institute (MCI) is a unique resource for the Gulf Coast—a state-of-the-art, integrated cancer treatment and academic research facility. Serving a region that includes 4.1 million people, the MCI has grown rapidly, providing cancer treatments to more than 6,500 patients in the last year. Thanks to an expanding clinical and research base, the MCI is on a positive trajectory to become a National Cancer Institute (NCI) designated Comprehensive Cancer Center.

This kind of progress requires lots of support, and the MCI is fortunate in the donors and friends who are working to strengthen its vital work that so many in our community count on for hope in the fight to defeat cancer. During the past year, donors have helped to promote the MCI’s growth by providing leading-edge technology, building research funding, and expanding resources for patients.
A Cause for Celebration

In its fifth year Celebrate Hope, the annual gala fundraising event for the USA Mitchell Cancer Institute, has enabled equipment purchases that are creating powerful, distinctive capabilities for advancing cancer research.

Proceeds from the fundraiser’s first four years have positioned MCI as the only cancer research facility in the U.S. to house two complementary Nikon super resolution microscope systems (N-SIM and N-STORM) that enable researchers to visualize cancer cells with incomparable precision, examine biological processes in living cells at sub-optical resolution, and follow the effects of anti-cancer drugs in real time.

Funds raised from the most recent event will be used to purchase a mass spectrometer for the core laboratory supporting research into proteins which serve as biomarkers for the early detection of cancer.

Building Research Funding

The hope of a future without cancer motivates thousands of Gulf Coast neighbors to act in support of MCI. Throughout the year a wide variety of events help educate, increase awareness, and raise funds on behalf of MCI.

Two of MCI’s annual events are expanding cancer research funding. An annual springtime mixed doubles tennis tournament hosted by the Kerri Castello Research Foundation raises money to support research at MCI. The foundation honors Kerri Castello, who as a teenager, faced diagnosis and treatment of cancer that was eventually fatal.

The difficulties of receiving treatment far from family and friends were hard for Kerri. Lora Castello, Kerri’s mother, says that Kerri’s unfulfilled wish to get her treatment with family and friends around her is a reason that the family has chosen to support MCI’s mission to provide the highest standard of care locally — enabling patients to get treatment here at home.

An annual 5k and fun run on the USA campus — the GO Run — is supporting basic research, clinical trials and outreach programs through the Gynecologic Cancer Research Endowment at the USA Mitchell Cancer Institute.

Although gynecologic cancers are quite treatable in early stages, they persist among the leading causes of cancer deaths for women in the United States. For this reason, researchers at MCI focus on finding new means for early detection and treatment for gynecologic cancers.

The GO Run, presented by Patricia Cobb Rodgers and Family in its 6th year, continues to grow. The 2013 race raised $78,000 through the efforts of 1,700 registered runners as well as many volunteers and sponsors.
Rotary Gift Establishes New Patient Resource Center

Helping build a better community is a goal shared by the Rotary Club of Mobile-Sunrise and the USA Mitchell Cancer Institute. In pursuit of this goal, the Sunrise Club has established a new resource center at the MCI dedicated to serving the educational needs of patients and families who are facing a cancer diagnosis.

The Rotary Club of Mobile-Sunrise Patient Resource Center is conveniently located in the lobby of MCI and houses books, DVDs, and CDs selected specifically to support the educational needs of cancer patients and their families. Club president, Edward Dismukes explained the appeal of the resource center project, “The Mobile-Sunrise Club has conducted local service and fundraising projects for the past 25 years, and we chose USA because of the positive, broad educational and health benefits the institution provides our local community.” This new center represents an important enhancement to the MCI’s strategic outreach initiatives and a vital reserve of information for families learning to live the highest possible quality of life with cancer.

Dear Friends,

Thank you for your generous financial support of the University of South Alabama. In this 50th Anniversary year, I have felt a deeper appreciation than ever before for the commitment each of you has made to strengthen this great institution.

The 50th Anniversary Campaign, just concluded, demonstrates powerfully how fortunate the University of South Alabama is because of the loyalty of its alumni, employees, and the support of its friends. The campaign’s goal — to raise 50,000 gifts in a three-year period — represented an ambitious leap forward in growing support for USA.

It gives me great pleasure to report, not only did the campaign reach its goal, it did so four months ahead of schedule in time for the May 3rd celebration of the University’s founding. At the official end date of the campaign, September 30, 2013, the goal had been exceeded by 11 percent. A total of 55,533 gifts were received. Among the thousands who supported the campaign, we are especially grateful to welcome 4,123 donors who made their first ever gifts to the University during the campaign.

This breadth of support has positioned USA strongly as we approach the exciting challenges ahead under the leadership of the next president. Total fundraising for Fiscal Year 2013, the last year of the 50th Anniversary Campaign, reached $21.5 million, eclipsing all years save one year during Campaign USA: Leadership.

On behalf of each of us at the University of South Alabama, I thank you for the significant momentum that your generosity creates in pursuing high-quality teaching, learning, and healing. Your gift is guaranteed to make a positive difference. Thank you.

Sincerely,

The late Dr. Frank R. Urbancic, a professor of accounting in the Mitchell College of Business for more than two decades, is remembered of his passion and enthusiasm for teaching and scholarship. He left a legacy through his contributions as a scholar, colleague, teacher and mentor. Thanks to a generous estate gift, he will also be remembered as a benefactor by future accounting scholars and students.

Urbancic was admired by his colleagues. He set the standard for faculty in the accounting department, earning recognition for his professional contributions that included: appointment by the Board of Trustees and the USA Foundation as the Ernest G. Cleverdon Professor of Business, and being honored the USA National Alumni Association as the Olivia Rambo McGlothren Outstanding Scholar, and by the Mitchell College of Business as Professor of the Year for 2007 and Researcher of the Year for 2009.

Indeed, Dr. Urbancic demonstrated tremendous devotion to the field of accounting, his students, and to the University of South Alabama. For many years he was a generous supporter of the Employee Annual Fund, and he has again distinguished himself by extraordinary generosity in making a bequest to USA that has established two endowments for the Mitchell College of Business.

Fittingly, the Frank R. Urbancic Faculty Fellow Award will recognize and support excellence through an annual stipend for a tenured member of the accounting faculty. The Frank R. Urbancic Scholarship in Accounting will assist future generations of aspiring accountants. Mitchell-Moulton Scholarship Initiative funds will match this gift for twice the impact on the students Dr. Urbancic was determined to help.

His sister, Geraldine Beha, believes he would be pleased with the way his bequest is continuing his work, “He pushed his students to be their best and it was a joy for him to see a student’s true potential brought to the surface. His gift will enable deserving students to study accounting for years to come.”

Many companies encourage their employees' philanthropy by matching the employee's gift, sometimes doubling or tripling the size of the gift. If you work for a matching gift company, just include your employer's matching gift form with your gift, and USA will take care of the details. Both you and your company will be recognized for the matching gift.

GIFTING SOCIETIES

A gift of real estate, works of art, collectibles, rare books, copyrights, oil and gas interests may be made to the University and then sold and the proceeds used for endowment or for capital or operating funds. Gifts of useable scientific equipment or computers may go immediately into the classroom or research laboratory.
GIVING SOCIETIES

Many donors find a bequest the most convenient way to leave a legacy to USA.

GIFTS THROUGH IRA’S AND QUALIFIED RETIREMENT PLANS

Because these assets may be subject to heavy taxation when passed to heirs, they are wonderful assets to consider using for charitable giving. A gift can be made simply by designating USA as a beneficiary of a retirement plan. If, however, you meet the minimum age for withdrawals and would benefit from a deduction to use against your current taxes, you might also consider a lifetime distribution to USA. Due to the dynamic nature of the law, you should consult your tax advisor prior to making such a gift.

The University of South Alabama is supported by many individuals, groups and organizations, but none are more important to the University than

- the USA Medical Alumni Association
- the USA National Alumni Association, and
- the Jaguar Athletic Fund.

It is through the fund raising efforts of these great volunteer organizations that scholarships are created; student, faculty, and employee awards are presented; academic programs are supported; athletic programs are enhanced; and school spirit is exemplified.

The Medical Alumni Association (MAA) represents more than 2,300 alumni from thirty-seven graduating classes. By participating in the association, dedicated alumni help enrich the medical school experience and foster fellowship for both students and alumni by supporting an array of educational and networking events including the White Coat Ceremony, the Senior Class Reception, and the Dean's Hour, a program where alumni speak to students regarding their specialties.

The MAA also hosts an Annual Medical Alumni Weekend, which incorporates reunion festivities and CME opportunities. At this year’s program, the board honored Dr. Arnold Luterman with the 2013 Distinguished Service Award for his commitment and service to the College of Medicine.

The association’s ongoing commitment to funding scholarships and awards continued with more than $35,000 awarded through the Medical Alumni Endowment Fund. The Class of 1981 entered its second year of a three-year campaign to raise additional scholarship funds for this endowment. Further enhancement of scholarships is expected through a similar campaign initiated by the Class of 2013 earlier this year.

The USA National Alumni Association (NAA) was founded in 1974 with a mission to provide comprehensive programs, services, and resources to benefit the University, its alumni, students, and friends. Today, that mission is brought to life through the many programs and events sponsored by the association—the Distinguished Alumni and Service Awards, Jaguar Junction, Running With The Jags, Alumni scholarship programs, Homecoming events, and much more. Each made possible through the association’s fundraising efforts.

Reflecting on the association’s many contributions, Karen Edwards, Executive Director of the NAA said, “Moulton Tower and Alumni Plaza serves as an enduring landmark, a beacon to future generations symbolizing the dedication and commitment of the USA National Alumni Association. Although it is the most visible, this magnificent structure is but one of many contributions made possible through the generosity of members of the association. The positive impact engaged alumni have had on this institution is truly remarkable, including unwavering support for student scholarships, enhanced programs, and new and renovated facilities.”

The NAA is proud to have served the University for more than 39 years and we wish to thank our more than 4,600 members for your unwavering support. Edwards continued, “If you are not currently a member, I encourage you to become a part of this great tradition through membership in the USA National Alumni Association.”

Since its establishment in 2006, the Jaguar Athletic Fund (JAF) has become essential to all South Alabama Athletic initiatives. The JAF is tasked with identifying individual financial goals for each athletic program and soliciting the resources needed to ensure that USA student-athletes are able to reach peak performance, both academically and athletically.

The JAF has continued to grow in size and prominence alongside South Alabama Athletics. With a membership of approximately 1,500, the JAF generated an estimated $1 million in private support last year alone, which will be used to help fund numerous athletic program needs and projects, including:

- promoting recruiting efforts
- supporting team travel opportunities
- funding video equipment and editing systems
- supplementing facility renovations and enhancements

In all, the JAF helps more than 350 student-athletes achieve the South Alabama Athletic Department’s guiding principles of Graduation – Citizenship – Championships.
