

Double covers and self-extensions of simple modules.

Let G be an extension of \overline{G} by a central subgroup of order 2. We consider the relationship between the 2-modular representations of these groups. The simple modules are the same and the space of extensions between two simple modules are also the same unless the two modules are isomorphic. We consider some examples and some sufficient conditions under which the groups of extensions are isomorphic.