

Questions for Student Feedback

The following questions should be given to students a few weeks into the semester:

- What about the course has been the most helpful for your learning so far this semester?
- What about the course has caused you the most difficulty in terms of learning so far this semester?
- What suggestion(s) can you make that might help alleviate the problems you identified in the second question?