Disc Golf

Cassandra Joy Bemby, M.S.

Disc golf is a lot like traditional "ball" golf, except players use specially made plastic flying discs instead of balls and clubs, and throw them for 'par' at an above-ground target instead of a hole in the ground. There are different types of discs used for different purposes, much like ball golfers use different clubs. The object of the game is to throw a golf disc into the target, typically a "Pole Hole" basket (a steel basket over which chains hang), in the fewest number of throws. The player begins by 'driving' from a designated tee area and continues toward the target, throwing each consecutive shot from the spot where the previous throw has landed. Finally, a successful 'putt' sends the disc into the target. Come learn the fundamentals of disc golf, rules, etiquette, and identify strategies, techniques, and personal skills needed in disc golf. You should be ready to play 18 holes at the completion of the course and see an improvement in distance, accuracy and scores. Wear appropriate apparel for walking and throwing disc outdoors. Basic throwing discs will be available.

FEATURED INSTRUCTOR

Aleesha Smith-Palombo has been dancing since she was two years old while living in France. She has received degrees in dance and physical education and has been teaching all types of dance and aerobics for USA since 1985. She believes dance classes are not only a great form of exercise, but also an excellent opportunity for socializing. Her goal is for students upon completing one of her classes is to hear a particular type of music and recognize the correct style of dance - and dance to it with confidence. "Dance is a fantastic way to relieve stress as well as a way to have fun," says Aleesha.

Movement, Rhythms and Developmental Activities

Aleesha S Palombo

This course begins with movement awareness and basic movement skills, and progresses to rhythmic activities such as the traditional dance steps in folk and square dancing. Soo Bahk Do: Beginning

Steven A Diaz, Ph.D.

Soo Bahk Do is a traditional Korean martial art with a history that spans 2000 years. It is a distinctly unique martial art that focuses on developing mind, body and spirit to develop a functional capability in its practitioners through the practice of the combat oriented exercises. This training conditions the mind and body for the realities of unarmed self defense and provides for a high degree of personal awareness. As an art form, it focuses on form, theory and aesthetics. As a system of self defense, Soo Bahk Do has great practical applications. Through systematic instruction, Soo Bahk Do teaches step-by-step methods of utilizing your body's energies in self defense. The training conditions the whole person- mind, body and spirit; to effectively generate, organize and disperse your body's energy in a powerful, focused way. This course is designed to you with the basic skills to perform traditional Soo Bahk Do techniques. The course will focus on beginner conditioning and flexibility exercises, and the step by step instruction of basic hand and foot movements. Beginner self defense and hand-to-hand practice with partners will also be introduced.

Martial Arts: Aikido

Phillip M Norrell, Sandan, Ed.D.

Interested in learning self-defense techniques? Concerned that you may be too small, too old or have physical limitations that would prevent you from using martial arts? Then Aikido--a gentle, but effective Japanese martial art-is a must for you! Aikido emphasizes the use of natural movement, avoidance, off-balances and redirection of an attacker's force to overcome aggression. Aikido allows you to come to a peaceful resolution while causing the least amount of harm to the attacker. This is a distinct advantage over martial arts that emphasize ways to injure your attacker. Saving the best news for last-people of almost any age or size, including some physical limitations, can still use Aikido effectively against the largest and strongest of aggressors. This course qualifies for discounts, coupons and value pricing.

Beginner Tai Chi

Leigh R Taylor

A moving meditation that stresses relaxation, slow continuous movements, mental focus and martial arts techniques to improve balance, flexibility, coordination, mental focus and general good health. Twenty-four (24) movements are taught individually and put together into a continuous, flowing form. This gentle exercise can be learned by persons of all ages and practiced for a lifetime. You will learn through verbal directions, demonstrations and by following the instructor in practicing the movements. An 18 movement Qi Gong is taught as a warm up exercise. Participate in the healing power of T'ai Chi...aerobic alternative, heart helper, balance booster, bone protector, and pain reliever.
