* Effective March 1, 2008, the University adapted the collection of this data in accordance with recent changes in federal law. This is the first time our reporting process has permitted job applicants to identify as Hispanic/Latino as an ethnicity and also identify one or more racial groups (for example, Hispanic/Latino and Asian), or to only identify as one or more racial groups (for example, White and Black or African-American). The analysis has three sections. Section 1 reflects the applicant response to Question No. 1 - Are you Hispanic/Latino? Section 2 is the applicant response to Question No. 2 - Which racial group or groups do you most closely identify with? Section 3 denotes the races that were indicated by those who identified as more than one race. Since applicants provide this information voluntarily, some choose not to provide it. Section 1 and Section 2 of the analysis include a column noting the number of applicants who did not provide the information (DNI).
