Wiles, B. L., Smith, K. A. "Communication Group for Adults with Communication Difficulties" (On-Going)
The purpose of this investigation is to characterize participants of group and individual communication support sessions for adults with communication difficulties secondary to a brain injury, stroke or neurodegenerative disease. Specifically, we are interested in the demographic of persons who attend the sessions and the frequency and duration of their attendance.

Graduate Studies Experience

Graduate Student Clinician, Mobile Bay Rehabilitation Hospital March 2012 – May 2012

Evaluated and treated adult clients in a multidisciplinary sub-acute rehabilitation setting.

Assessed and monitored patient progress using functional independence measures (FIMs).

Assisted with administration of FEES.

Graduate Assistant, University of South Alabama August 2010 – May 2012

Researched traumatic brain injury (TBI) and social interactions in adults with Dr. Kelli Evans. Recruited and selected participants, administered pre- and post-assessments, and recruited and trained actresses for the experiment.

Created and edited lecture materials and evaluated graduate and undergraduate student assessments for Dr. Kelli Evans and Dr. Ishara Ramkissoon.

Created and organized patient files, assisted with patient check in and billing, and provided general clerical work for the office staff at the University of South Alabama Speech and Hearing Center.

Graduate Student Clinician, Baldwin County Public Schools September 2011 - December 2011

Treated numerous communication disorders for preschool and elementary school age children, including Autism Spectrum Disorder alongside the school-based Speech-Language Pathologist.

Planned for and utilized small groups to provide speech-language therapy for elementary school aged children.

Administered the Assessment of Basic Language & Learning Skills (ABLLS-R) to children with Autism Spectrum Disorder.

Observed eligibility meetings and Individualized Education Plan meetings.

Graduate Student Clinician, University of South Alabama August 2010 - August 2011

Treated speech and language disorders in both pediatric and adult clients. Therapy included childhood apraxia of speech, early language development, aural rehabilitation with a cochlear implant, school-age articulation and phonology, child and adolescent fluency, adult accent reduction, and adult apraxia and aphasia.

Evaluated speech and language, and performed hearing screenings for both pediatric and adult clients.

Consistently and successfully incorporated feedback from supervisors into my therapeutic and diagnostic practices.
