

TENURE-TRACK POSITION IN BIOMEDICAL SCIENCES AT THE UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH ALABAMA

The Department of Biomedical Sciences at the University of South Alabama is seeking applicants for a 12-month, tenure-track faculty position at the Assistant or Associate (with appropriate experience) Professor level. The Department of Biomedical Sciences, administratively housed in the Pat Capps Covey College of Allied Health Professions, offers a B.S. degree intended for undergraduates interested in pursuing post-baccalaureate study in medical/health professions and biomedical research. Applicants must possess a Ph.D. or equivalent degree in an area of biomedical science, with a record of scholarship. Undergraduate teaching experience is desirable, and the successful applicant will be expected to teach microbiology, pathophysiology, and/or pharmacology to undergraduates. The successful applicant will be expected to develop an active funded research program and mentor undergraduate research projects.

The University of South Alabama is located in Mobile close to the Mobile Bay Estuary and beautiful Alabama Gulf Coast, which is known for its clean white sand beaches and sparkling Gulf waters. The Mobile area is also the home of a family-friendly Mardi Gras celebration and is a mecca for both fresh water and deep sea fishing as well as other water activities. The University of South Alabama is a diverse growing community of more than 15,500 students and 6,000 employees, with 10 Colleges, Schools and Institutes including the Pat Capps Covey College of Allied Health Professions, College of Medicine and Mitchell Cancer Institute.

Review of applications will begin April 1, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled, with an anticipated start date of August 15, 2018.

Please apply electronically at the following link <https://www.governmentjobs.com/careers/usouthal/jobs/2014475> and be prepared to attach (a) a cover letter of interest, (b) a current curriculum vitae (CV), (c) unofficial college transcripts, and (d) the names of three references.
