The Social Sciences Librarian serves as the liaison to the Sociology, Anthropology, and Social Work; Political Science and Criminal Justice; Psychology; and Communication departments and is responsible for providing instruction, collection development, and outreach services to the faculty, graduate students, and undergraduate students in those departments. The person in this position also shares library instruction responsibilities for the general education composition course (English 102) with the other liaison librarians. The Social Sciences Librarian effectively uses instructional technologies, such as LibGuides and video creation software and works with the Instruction Coordinator Librarian and the Instructional Committee to design, implement, and assess library instruction for assigned departments. This librarian offers one-on-one consultations to departmental faculty and students and provides reference desk services as assigned. The Social Sciences Librarian is involved in library, professional and university service, and professional development and scholarly activities that will lead professional growth. This librarian will also perform other duties as assigned.
