The University of South Alabama, Mitchell College of Business (MCOB), invites applications for a tenure-track position in economics beginning August 15, 2020. The department is seeking an ambitious scholar for the position of assistant professor who is academically qualified to teach undergraduate and graduate economic courses. The ideal candidate should have strong foundations in microeconomics and labor economics, and be capable of making significant contributions in these fields. A publication record is preferred. In addition, a commitment to excellent teaching is required. The candidate is expected to develop a teaching portfolio that may include principles of microeconomics, principles of macroeconomics, labor economics, public finance, and possibly a health economics course. Candidates should have earned a doctorate degree in economics but ABDs will be considered. MCOB’s undergraduate and graduate programs are AACSB accredited.

Applicants should submit (i) a letter of interest; (ii) curriculum vita; (iii) sample of publications (or job market paper); (iv) teaching and research statements; (iv) three letters of recommendation; (v) if available, copies of teaching evaluations or other evidence of teaching effectiveness. Candidates can view our posting at https://www.aeaweb.org/joe/ and apply through https://econjobmarket.org/. The application deadline is December 15th, 2019. Interviews for this position will take place at the ASSA meeting in early January.

Official transcripts from all institutions of higher learning from which a degree was received and three original signed letters of recommendation will be required prior to approval of an offer of employment. The University of South Alabama is an EO/AA employer - minorities/females/veterans/disabilities/sexual orientation/gender identity.

Candidates can view http://www.southalabama.edu for more information about the university or http://www.cityofmobile.org for more information about the Mobile area.