The University of South Alabama, Mitchell College of Business (MCOB), invites applications for a tenure track position in finance beginning August 15, 2021. The department is seeking an ambitious scholar for the position of assistant professor who is academically qualified to teach undergraduate and graduate finance courses. The ideal candidate should have strong foundations in the field of investments. A publication record is preferred. In addition, a commitment to excellent teaching is required. Candidates should have an earned doctorate degree in finance by the time of appointment, but ABDs will be considered. MCOB’s undergraduate and graduate programs are AACSB accredited.

Applications received by September 15, 2020 will receive full consideration for interviews at FMA; however, applications will continue to be accepted until the position is filled. Applicants should submit (i) a letter of interest; (ii) curriculum vita; (iii) teaching and research statements; (iv) sample of publications (or job market paper); (v) three letters of recommendation; (vi) if available, copies of teaching evaluations or other evidence of teaching effectiveness to:
