The Mitchell College of Business at the University of South Alabama, invites applications for two tenure-track, 9-month positions (all ranks considered). The first position seeks candidates to teach Ph.D. and MBA-level courses in supply chain management, logistics, and related areas, beginning August 15, 2020. Candidates should be recognized as global scholars, with accomplished records of high-impact scholarly contributions, and a confirmed commitment to excellent teaching. The successful candidate will demonstrate evidence of the strongest possible research record in the areas of supply chain management and logistics. Candidates should have an earned doctorate in Supply Chain Management, Business Logistics, Transportation, Marketing, or a closely related field, from an AACSB-accredited institution.

The second position seeks candidates to teach undergraduate and graduate courses in supply chain management, logistics, and related areas, beginning August 15, 2020. Ideal candidates should demonstrate evidence or promise of a robust research agenda in relevant areas of supply chain management, in addition to a strong and continuing commitment to quality teaching. A demonstrated record of engagement with industry professionals is a plus. Candidates should have an earned doctorate in Supply Chain Management, Business Logistics, Transportation, Marketing, or a closely related field, from an AACSB-accredited institution.

For both positions, rank will be determined based on qualifications and experience. Successful candidates should be legally authorized to work in the United States at the time of appointment and continue working legally for the term of employment. While the search remains open until positions are filled, applicants should send materials as early as possible. Applicants should send a letter of application, vita, and the names and contact information of three references, electronically, to: Joe F. Hair, Chair, Supply Chain Management Search Committee, Mitchell College of Business #125, University of South Alabama, 5811 USA Drive South, Mobile, AL 36688-0002, jhair@southalabama.edu.

The University of South Alabama (www.southalabama.edu), classified as a high research activity university, is a major center of high-quality undergraduate, graduate, medical and professional education located on the upper Gulf Coast, enrolling over 14,500 students. The university is located in Mobile, Alabama (www.mobile.org), recognized as a vibrant business, cultural, and recreational hub, located conveniently between the Florida Panhandle and New Orleans. Mobile is experiencing an economic surge across industry sectors, including aerospace, shipping and maritime interests, healthcare, distribution, and services. The Mitchell College of Business, accredited by AACSBI International, endeavors to play a critical role in this ongoing regional economic growth.

The University of South Alabama is an EO/AA employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, religion, age, genetic information, disability, protected veteran status or any other applicable legally protected basis.